

NAVALIA 65 (2005)

DESCRIPTION

Navalia 65, luxury and tailored comfort for an Italian lobster yacht of exclusive value that embodies a great variety of features, starting from the numerous common areas, safety and marked comfort in navigation as well as an innate aesthetic style.

The outdoor spaces offer conviviality in the large cockpit and total relax by the sea both in the bow area and in the sun deck area with wide sun deck. Many details are studied by the shipyard to ensure a pleasant stay board, such as the wide side-decks that allow an easy access with the bow.

The interiors feature three cabins with en-suite facilities, all recently renewed with a modern and warm taste. The cabin crew is located at the bow and also features en-suite facilities, accommodating two crew in a bunk bed configuration.

No expenses were spared during the refit works carried out in the last year including the replacement of the carpet, renovation of the galley, new propellers, Hull and upper structure repainted, engine room redone with engines fully serviced. Further information upon request.
